Brand Identity Objective

A brand is more than a logo and a set of marketing materials. A brand is a promise. A promise that supports your core values and delivers on your mission and vision.

The Zonta Brand Identity Guidelines will serve as the primary document for guidance on the use of the Zonta brand. The objective of developing the Zonta brand identity was to refresh the existing brand identity, develop visual identity guidelines for easier implementation, and ensure that Zonta exhibits a consistent global image. The key measures of success are shown below:

- Create a more memorable brand for Zonta that increases recall, recognition and awareness.
- Develop a more meaningful brand that helps increase the organization's relevance on a global scale.
- Build a more contemporary brand that shows forward movement but does not limit the brand equity already established.
- Integrate an element of warmth that shows the depth of caring, compassion, and trust that Zontians throughout the world exhibit.

The guidelines encompass a wide spectrum of standards, including:

- Logo design
- Color palette
- Typography
- Brand Identity standards
- Branded merchandise examples
- Template examples

Mission, Vision and Theme

Understanding the difference between the mission, the vision, and the brand theme

The mission serves as a formal summary of the aims and values of Zonta.

The vision is a declaration of Zonta's goals for the long-term future and identifies what we would like to achieve.

The theme defines the Zonta brand's core purpose in one simple, and succinct sentence.

Mission

Zonta International is a leading global organization of professionals empowering women worldwide through service and advocacy.

Vision

Zonta International envisions a world in which women's rights are recognized as human rights and every woman is able to achieve her full potential.

In such a world, women have access to all resources and are represented in decision-making positions on an equal basis with men.

In such a world, no woman lives in fear of violence.

The Zonta Logo History

The Story of the Zonta Emblem

"Zonta" is derived from a Lakhota (Teton Dakota), a language of the Native-American Sioux peoples, word meaning honest and trustworthy. It was adopted in 1919 to symbolize the combined qualities of honesty and trust, inspiration and the ability to work together for service and world understanding.

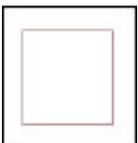

The emblem is not simply a decorative design. It is an adaptation and composite of several Sioux Indian symbols which when superimposed take on a special significance for Zontians.

What appears to be the letter "Z" is actually the Sioux symbol for "ray of light," "sunshine" or "flash of radiance" - and so "inspiration." The entire Zonta movement is an inspiration, and that inspiration stems from the "radiance" of each individual Zontian and so this symbol means to us "ALL of Zonta" and "each individual member of ZONTA," and becomes the focal point of the emblem.

This Sioux symbol means "to band together for a purpose" or "to stand together" - in a word, "loyalty." With loyalty, individual members band together into clubs, clubs into districts/regions and districts and regions into Zonta International. So "loyalty" surrounds the "radiance" and "inspiration" as we begin to see a familiar pattern.

This is the Sioux way of saying "to carry together." Carrying together is a most important ingredient for the accomplishment of Zonta's purpose: to work for the advancement of women worldwide through a global fellowship of business executives and professionals. This symbol has been conventionalized to lend itself to the total pattern and slips over the "inspiration" and the "loyalty" to draw us closer together.

This is the Sioux symbol for "shelter." Zonta's many service projects are a shelter for those in need. This symbol therefore lends itself importantly in significance and design, embodying Zonta's aims and aspirations.

The symbolism of the square is not exclusively Sioux, nor is it exclusively Native American. It perhaps dates back even further than all of these other symbols in its representation of "honesty" and "trust."

This symbol--composed of many symbols--became Zonta's emblem signifying a radiant group of successful professionals who are loyal, honest, trustworthy and inspired to empower women worldwide through service and advocacy.

This symbol--composed of many symbols--became Zonta's emblem signifying a radiant group of successful professionals who are loyal, honest, trustworthy and inspired to empower women worldwide through service and advocacy.

During the 1996-1998 Biennium, the Zonta International Board voted to have the words "Zonta International" incorporated into the emblem to standardize its appearance and enhance recognition of Zonta International throughout the world.

Minimum Size Specifications

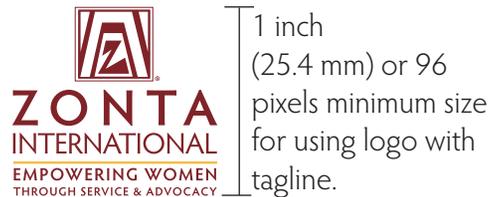

It's important for the logo to have clear space around the perimeter to allow for maximum brand impact. In the illustration at right, note that the clear space should be equal to the height of the letter "Z" in "Zonta".

In addition, the tagline should always be legible. If the allowed space for the logo does not permit the tagline to be legible, you must use the version of the logo without the tagline. Minimum size requirements for using the logo with the tagline are shown in the illustration at right. When logo height is less than 1 inch (25.4 mm), use the block logo without the tagline. Block logos are available in mahogany, black & white, and reverse.

Clear space is X-height= height of the letter "Z" in "Zonta"

The tagline should not be used in instances where it becomes illegible. In these cases, use the version of the logo without the tagline.

Block logo: use when logo is less than 1 inch (25.4 mm) or 96 pixels high.

The Zonta Logo: Incorrect Use

Proper use of the Zonta brand will ensure a consistent and professional image. Some basic guidelines to remember:

- Do not alter the Zonta logo in any way.
- Do not animate, color, rotate, skew, or apply effects to the logo.
- Never attempt to create the logo yourself, change the font, or alter the size or proportions.

Some visual examples are shown to help illustrate incorrect use of the Zonta logo.

1. Do not stretch the logo.
2. Do not use the word mark without the emblem.
3. Do not add shadows to the logo.
4. Do not recolor the logo.
5. Do not make the logo into a pattern or texture.
6. Do not apply any photo effects to the logo.

7. Do not rotate the logo.
8. Do not use the logo in a repeating pattern.
9. Do not alter the transparency of the logo.
10. Do not use the color logo against a colored background other than white, black or gray. Use the black version instead.

12. Do not apply an outline to the logo.
13. Do not amend the logo with clipart.
14. Do not replace the tagline with any other text. It must remain "Empowering women through service & advocacy".

Club name specifications

The club name should be listed under the Z club or Golden Z club logo. The specifications at the right indicate how to complete the logo.

Space between the bottom of the logo and the top of the club name is 1/2 the size of the club name height.

The club name text size should be the same height as the body of the word club in the logo.

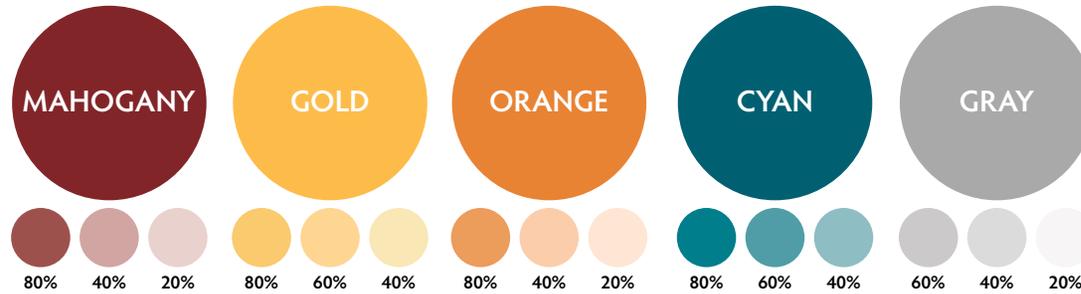

Any approved font can be used for the club name. Use upper & lower case letters and regular font, not bold.

Corporate Brand Colors

Maintaining consistent color throughout all Zonta communications whether in print or electronic form is vital. The two official Zonta colors are Mahogany and Gold. Mahogany, is the color that has been used historically and represents Zonta’s resilience. The secondary color, Gold, has been used in the Zonta brand for symbolizing strength and light.

Complimentary colors (Orange and Cyan) and a neutral color (Gray) are included in the palette to be used based on the emotional connection you are trying to evoke. Complimentary colors bring energy, excitement and passion whereas neutral colors are more subtle.
